					Possibly Argentine. Per David: Takes a 46 caliber projectile. There is probably a 42	Remington Rollingblock - Argentine	1879 EN R.B.	43 Spanish	none	bullet mold for it.
					Russian; *Barrell #362308, Bolt #17029.
					Per David: This one is made by Remmington. Only 200-300 made prior to the Bolshevik Revolution.
					Commissioned by the Russian government. Dad bought at a gun 43	Russian Mosin-Nagant	Model 1891	7.62x54	*	show, bolt not original.

					130, triger guard SN 130, barrell SN 130, part numbers to see if they are consistent or if the gun has parts replaced. with bayounet; Brought back from WWII by Delbert P Blackwell. Dad said DP took it off a "dead German".
					The card says it was brought back from Germany, but I'm not sure if it was actually Germany or just the front.; might be more valuable b/c it has swastikas all over it - may have been part of the SS. Manufacturer appears to be J.P. Sauer & Sohn, Suhl. The
Ī					swastikas are actually Waffenamt codes
